

DEATH OF DR. EVANS HIS PROFESSIONAL LIFE

An Army Surgeon and a Noted Medical Lecturer.

Dr. J. M. Evans died yesterday afternoon after a long illness. As long ago as the beginning of the year his life was despaired of but then a turn came for the better and there was a hope of his recovery. The cause of death was Bright's disease believed to have been aggravated by the litigation in which the doctor had been involved over the Keyesone mining property.

Dr. Evans was sixty-six years of age. He was born in middle Ohio in 1840 and was graduated from the Sterling Medical college shortly before the breaking out of the war. He entered the army and served through the war as a surgeon. He afterward served in United States hospitals in Baltimore and New Orleans and was especially successful in combating small pox.

He took a post graduate course at Jefferson Medical college and lectured there on anatomy. He was afterward a lecturer at Bellevue hospital on therapeutics. He attained distinction and had a wide reputation in the profession as a learned physician. He continued the practice of medicine in New York and other places. He came to Phoenix in 1882 and practiced for a short time here after which he became interested in mining.

After that he treated friends and those who were too poor to pay a physician for he was a warm hearted and generous man once his true character was learned.

He was married in 1888 to Miss Jennie Anderson of Detroit who survives him. He leaves beside two brothers and a large number of nieces and nephews. Dr. Evans' father was a well known minister of the Christian church and all his brothers were in professional life.

His oldest acquaintance in this part of the country was Dr. O. L. Mahoney. They had been brought up in the same community from boyhood. At the outbreak of the war Dr. Mahoney became a surgeon in the southern army. After the war was over they were brought together again on terms of the closest intimacy.

BOOK NOTICE.

Baldwin's Nine Choice Poems. Edited with introductory sketches and notes by James Baldwin. Cloth 12mo., 112 pages, with portraits. Price 25 cents. American Book company, New York, Cincinnati and Chicago.

Nine of the best known short poems of Longfellow, Lowell, Macaulay, Byron, Browning and Shelley. The explanatory notes are brief and few, for the introductory sketches are intended to awaken such interest in the poems as a whole as will lead the pupils to discover for themselves whatever is most needful to understand. The biographical sketches are designed chiefly for reference. These particular poems were selected because they form the requirements of the New York State Educational Department for examination for preliminary certificates in English. As here edited they will aid the young reader to grow into an appreciation of the best poetry.

$100 REWARD, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address P. J. THE TIME IS NOW

Great Crowds Taking Advantage of It at Balke's Big Curio Store.

The sacrifice sale at Balke's Big Curio store is attracting throngs. High grade goods are going at prices never before heard of in Phoenix. Odds and ends of the stock are being disposed of regardless of cost. The main thing now with Mr. Balke is more room for the immense new stock with which he will open the coming season.

There are many handsome articles in jewelry which are included in the cut sale. In fact, practically everything is included. But novelties to which especial attention is directed consist of hat pins and scarf pins of glistening silver set in gold. There are also hat pins and scarf pins of turquoise, both finished and in the rough.

There is also a novelty in shirt waist sets made to the order of Mr. Balke, from Cave Creek onyx, set in gold. These were ordered some time ago but there was an unexpected delay in the receipt of them. This is entirely the newest and handsomest thing in shirt waist sets. Not the least attractive thing about them is the price.

Mention has been made before of the famous Mexican jewelry consisting of filigree and cut coin work. Beside the usual articles of jewelry for wear, there are pretty souvenirs of filigree of such as spoons, paper cutters, fobs, etc. In addition there are some extremely pretty articles in the more rare gold filigree.

It is impossible to even allude to a considerable number of the bargains which the Big Curio is now offering. More can be seen in ten minutes than can be told about in an hour and the stock can then be seen in all its beauty. But as has before been stated there are opportunities being offered now which will never come again. There are for instance the famous Mexican drawn work, the Mexican hand carved leather, the blankets and zerapes all of which must go. It is absolutely certain that none of these articles can be bought next season at the prices at which they are now being practically given away. These bargains cannot last long since Mr. Balke will shortly set out on his annual purchasing tour through Mexico and among all the Indian tribes of the west famed for the manufacture of interesting curios and valuable articles.

GREENWOOD CEMETERY ON THE YUMA ROAD

A Description of the New Home for the Dead.

A few months ago a plan was conceived for the laying out of a public cemetery for the accommodation of a greater Phoenix, the old cemeteries having been filled to their entire capacity.

Forty acres of land was purchased, one and a quarter miles west of Five Points, on the Yuma road. This has been beautifully laid out, by an expert surveyor, in designs especially adapted for lovely effects. Steel fence and gates of artistic design have been erected in front.

Under the expert advice of George H. Smith, the gardener at the Capitol, shrubbery has been planted, and by competent judges it is pronounced the finest lot of shrubbery that has ever been brought to Arizona. The entire country is laid out in beautiful lawns, which are to be kept perpetually green by a pumping plant erected especially for this purpose.

The grounds will be under the special and continuous care of John Spence, an English gardener, who has had charge of some of the most beautiful grounds in England. He was at one time connected with the Royal Horticultural garden and with the Duke of Bedford's gardens. The soil is especially adapted for burial purposes.

The lots are sold to the public, carrying with them a perpetual care; that is, the cemetery association sets aside the greater portion of the amount which one pays for his lot, and the interest on this amount goes to keep the grounds in the most beautiful and perfect condition. The lots are now on sale and can be obtained by applying to Frank Thomas city recorder, who has a plat showing the plan and design of the cemetery. It will be called Greenwood cemetery, and the name is most appropriate, as it will be a beautiful spot of perpetual green, dotted with lovely trees and bright flowers.

In a few years this will be one of the most beautiful and restful spots to be seen in this country.

BEEMER GETS JUDGMENT IN THE PEASE SUIT

An Exciting Trial Further Intensified by an Earthquake.

Hon. Robert E. Morrison arrived yesterday morning from Yuma, where he and a considerable part of the members of the territorial bar have been for the last week trying the case of H. J. Beemer against O. A. Pease. Soon after the arrival of Mr. Morrison in the city he received a telegram informing him that his client, Beemer, had been given judgment for $1 damages and that practically all the points which had been raised had been decided in his favor.

This was as much as Beemer had expected, the object of the suit being the rescission of a contract which had been made between Beemer and Pease with relation to the property of the Amalgamated Gold Mines company. According to the contract, Beemer was to pay $2,500,000 for the property, and he did pay $85,000. The contract was made upon representations by Pease and upon the report of an expert upon the value of samples taken from the property.

It was alleged by Beemer that the representations were false and that the samples had been substituted. Before this discovery had been made Beemer had invested altogether about $250,000 in the property. About a year ago he undertook the removal of machinery from the property and was enjoined by Pease, who afterward drew the property into the hands of a receiver. In the meantime, however, the machinery had been removed, and the suit of Beemer was filed to rescind the contract and for damages. This suit was met by a counter complaint on the part of Pease, who sued to compel the performance of the contract.

No action in this territory was ever more bitterly contested. The arguments between the attorneys abounded in personalities, and the principals were severely roasted by opposing counsel.

In the course of the trial, though, there was a diversion. It happened last Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Morrison was addressing the jury when he noticed a curious look on the face of Judge Campbell. The look was reflected in the countenances of the jurymen and Clerk T. D. Molloy. Judge Campbell announced that court would stand at recess for ten minutes. Yuma had been shaken by an earthquake, which all who happened to be sitting felt plainly. Judge Campbell was afflicted with nausea and was for a short time unable to proceed with the case.

At the White House, 214 East Washington street, you can buy goods cheaper than at any other store in Phoenix. Why? Because the proprietor owns the ground and the building, does his own work with the exception of one clerk, and accordingly has practically no expenses. All goods are bought for cash and the discount saved. The store and stock are new, consisting of dry goods, gent's furnishings, boots and shoes. Give me a call and be convinced.

LOUIS KILLEEN, Proprietor.

ANCHORED TO PHOENIX—A business deal was consummated yesterday whereby C. B. Cochran, who came to Phoenix last fall from Kansas and has since made this city his home, bought in the T. W. Chamberlain Lumber company, the stock of the corporation formerly held by Thos. H. Prescott. He also succeeds Mr. Prescott as secretary of the company and will in the future become actively engaged in the management of the company's affairs. Mr. Cochran bought the Plank home on North Second avenue shortly after he arrived in the city and with his family now resides there.

OVERLAND TRIP FROM INDIANA

The Destination, the Wilson District, was Worth the Journey.

Wilson District, April 21.—(Special Correspondence of The Republican.)—William A. Graves and daughter of Indiana, are late residents of this district. Mr. Graves left Indiana October 12 and arrived in Phoenix March 6, having driven the entire distance in a wagon. The overland trip was made for the benefit of his daughter's health. They had the usual experience with the quicksands of New Mexico and Arizona; had one upset and lost one valuable horse; otherwise the trip was uneventful. The daughter had gained 22 pounds when they arrived here. In four days after arriving he had bought twelve lots on the Tempe road and is now living in a house built on one of them. If things turn out as expected, the rest of the family will be brought here and this valley made their home.

The annual closing exercises of our district school will be held April 27. Much preparation has been made for this entertainment and it will doubtless be the best yet given. There will be a feast of good things, both in a literary way and for the inner man. At the close of the exercises, the basket of alms will be given. The ladies will furnish the baskets, filled with good things to eat. The same will be sold at auction, and the man buying one of these, eats with the owner. The money thus made is used in buying books for the school library. You can't afford to miss it.

The Singing society met at Mrs. McKee's, on the Tempe road, Friday night. The attendance was good and a profitable evening was had, being both instructive and social.

One of the conductors of the Phoenix street car line will be a near neighbor of ours in a short time. He recently bought property of Mr. Satterwhite, which is being made ready for occupancy.

Mr. Dowell is building a new barn on his ranch.

Ed. Wetzler, from Arlington, was visiting friends in this neighborhood this week.

Ira F. Campbell was visiting your correspondent Friday. Mr. Campbell spent eight months in the valley about a year ago, but since then has been traveling in California and Colorado. The climatic conditions in this valley, he thinks, are about as near perfect as one can find and he will hesitate a long time before changing again.

There is entirely too much carelessness by some ranchmen in the handling of water. The Tempe road has been flooded two or three times this spring by the same ranch. The road has cost the county too much money to be made a mudhole of.

The busiest place in the district right now is at "Fred" Tait's. For some time he has been getting ready for his summer harvesting. Machines have been overhauled, sickles ground up, and now you can hear the hum of his three or four mowers in the field. Fred is one of the big and successful ranchmen of the valley.

STRONG PROGRAM COCHEM'S BENEFIT

The Most Elaborate Entertainment Lately Offered the People of Phoenix.

By far the most important musical event of the year will take place next Wednesday evening, April 25, at the Dorris opera house. It will be a monster benefit tendered Mr. Karl Cochem by his many friends. The program is exceedingly long, but in that its strength does not lie. The best vocalists and musicians of the city have volunteered their services, and Phoenix is more liberally supplied with high-grade musicians than any other city in the country of its size. This will also be Mr. Cochem's farewell concert, as he will soon leave for New York and from that port sail for Italy—probably the first of June. There he will study under the most celebrated teacher in Europe, Mr. Henry Russell.

Although the program will be largely musical, a rare treat is in store for those who attend in a number which has been prepared by Frank Connelly, one of the funniest men Phoenix has ever seen on the stage. Of the musical numbers, of course the great interest centers in Mr. Cochem's himself, who will sing "Zarita," a Spanish serenade, written and composed by Mrs. Charles F. Berger and dedicated to Mr. Cochem.

Others who may appear on the program are: Paul Renau Ingles, tenor; Frank Helderbran, baritone; Ernest Wilson, tenor; Miss Mason, violinist; Mrs. Tiffany, soprano; Mr. Latchaw, baritone; Prof. Todd, pianist; Mrs. Cooley, reader; Mrs. Craven, pianist; Mrs. Charles DeMund, soprano; Vincent Jones, baritone; Miss Gentry, pianist; Miss Godey, soprano; Mrs. Dr. Richards; Miss Brookie George, contralto; Mrs. Depeuw, soprano; Charles Berger, sketch; Mrs. Hulett, soprano; Prof. Fountain, selection on bandola; Miss Louise Murphy, soprano; Miss Barda, harpist; Mrs. Tafel, soprano; Miss Grace Hilgen, pianist; Mrs. Hamilton, mezzo-soprano; Prof. Revare, mandolinist; Dixie quartet (Miss Utley, Miss Osborn, Mr. Evans and John McCoy); serenading sextette (Charles McCoy, A. G. Fickett, W. Sweet, John McCoy, J. W. Hitchcock and Mr. Gilbert); Prof. Fountain's band; Indian School band.

MUST OBEY THE LAW.—B. Semmas was arrested and fined $25 in Justice Burnett's court for not sending his child to school. The authorities desire publicity given to this incident to emphasize the purpose of the officers to follow up this matter closely and secure the arrest of all who disregard the law respecting the sending of their children to school. They are liable to fine, and jail sentence if the fine is not paid.
